

Privacy Policy

Privacy Policy

Scott Corporation Limited supports the National Privacy Principles as set out in the Commonwealth Privacy 1988 (as amended) and its principles.

In order to ensure compliance with the Commonwealth Privacy Act, Scott Corporation Limited shall ensure that all information collected on customers and employees (including potential employees) will be retained for the original purpose that it was requested.

Scott Corporation Limited will take all reasonable steps to protect the security of the personal information that is held by Scott Corporation Limited. This includes appropriate measures to ensure the protection of electronic materials and material stored in hard copy.

Should Scott Corporation Limited be required to forward information on to other organisational such as insurers, information forwarded shall be limited to the specific purpose of that requirement.

In supporting the implementation of this process, Scott Corporation Limited has appointed a Privacy Officer, Neville Hoskin. Any questions regarding this issue should be forwarded onto them.

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read "David Keane".

DAVID KEANE
Managing Director/CEO
1st October 2007